Plot 619 Andrews/Mackenzie/Douglas/Snodgrass

This is an altar tomb with inscriptions on all five visible sides, so it has been treated as five separate inscriptions as follows:-

A) Andrews.

Inscription-Top of the tomb Here lie interred the remains of Ann the wife of Edward Andrews Gent who died 22nd September 1766 aged 64 years. Also of Edward Andrews who died 11th January 1770 aged 63 years leaving four children by his said wife namely Edward, Robert, Ann and Mary. Also Edward Andrews, son of Robert and Rachel Andrews who died June 4th 1774 aged eight months. Likewise of Edward Andrews of the Town and Port of Dover, Gent, and son of the above named Edward and Ann Andrews who died 29th August 1798 aged 63 years. Also of Robert Andrews of this Town and Port, Gent, who died 1st January 1801 aged 63 years leaving one daughter Rachel. Rachel wife of Robert Andrews died 22nd December 1803 in the 67th year of her age and is here interred. Also of Donald Douglas who died at Hythe September 30th 1883 aged 62 years. [The above transcript was made by Mr L.L. Duncan in 1891; the top inscription is now weathered and difficult to read].

Edward Andrews (1707-1770) was baptised in St Mary's, Dover, on 3 June 1707, the son of Samuel & Judith Andrews. He married Anne Hammond in Hawkinge on 18 October 1729. They had five children. Four were baptised in Hythe, Ann in 1731, Elizabeth (who died young) in 1732, Mary in 1733 and Robert in 1737; Edward was born c.1735. Edward Andrews died on 4 January 1770 in his house in Hythe, aged 63.

Ann Andrews nee Hammond was probably the daughter of Richard & Mary Hammond who was baptised in Petham on 28 March 1708.

Edward Andrews (c.1735- 1798), the elder son of Edward & Ann Andrews, probably never married. He was a tanner in Dover. When he died in 1798 he left all his property to his brother Robert.

Robert Andrews, the younger son of Edward & Ann Andrews was baptised in Hythe in 1737. He married Rachel Child in Sellinge on 28 April 1772. They had two children. Edward, christened in Hythe in October 1773, was buried there in June 1774. Their daughter, Rachel, was baptised in Hythe on 16 April 1782. She married Colonel (later General) Kenneth Mackenzie (later Douglas) in Hythe in 1804 (see further below). Robert Andrews owned freehold land in Hythe so could vote in Parliamentary elections.

Rachel Andrews nee Child, the wife of Robert Andrews, was born c.1737 and married Robert Andrews in Sellinge in 1772. She died in 1803.

B) Mackenzie/Douglas

Inscription- South side In the vault are deposited the remains of Lieutenant General Sir Kenneth Douglas Baronet of Glenberrie Colonel of the 58th Regiment eldest son of Kenneth Mackenzie Esquire of Kilcoy Castle Rossshire. He entered the Army at the age of 13 and served his King and Country whenever called until his death which took place in London November 22nd 1833 aged 69 years. He assumed the name and Arms of Douglas by sign manual on the 19th October 1831 in memory of his uncle Sir Alexander Douglas of Glenberrie. He married on the 18th December 1804 (when Lieutenant Colonel Mackenzie of the 52nd Regiment) Rachel only daughter of Robert Andrews Esquire of this Town and Port by whom he had nine children and left surviving six viz: Robert Andrews, Alexander Douglas, Edward, Rachel, Lynedoch and Donald. Kenneth and William died in their infancy and Kenneth his third son died in Ceylon.

General Sir Kenneth Mackenzie-Douglas was born in 1754, the eldest son of Kenneth Mackenzie of Kilcoy, Rossshire and his wife Janet, the daughter of Sir Robert Douglas, 6th Baronet of Glenbervie. He was created Baronet of Glenbervie in 1831 when he changed his name from Mackenzie to Douglas. In 1767 he entered the Army as an ensign in the 33rd Regiment in Guernsey and in 1783 transferred as a lieutenant into the 14th Regiment in the West Indies. In 1791 his Regiment went to the Netherlands and he served throughout the 1793 campaign. His qualities as an officer impressed Thomas Graham of Balgowan (later General Lord Lynedoch) who asked for his services when he raised the 90th (Perthshire Light Infantry) Regiment in 1794 during the French Revolutionary War. Lt Mackenzie was promoted Captain and Major in the 90th which became the oldest British light infantry unit. In 1795 it landed in Brittany to support a French Royalist force in the Quiberon campaign. It then went to Portugal where he became acting Lt-Colonel and his battalion was used By Sir Charles Stuart as a role model for other officers. Mackenzie took part in the capture of Minorca in 1798, was promoted Lt-Colonel and became acting Adjutant-General of the island. In 1801 he went with the 90th to Egypt as a Major as part of the British Expeditionary Force to drive Napoleon out of Egypt. The 90th sustained heavy casualties in the Battle of Mandora in March 1801 and Mackenzie took command when the Colonel was killed. He commanded the 44th Regiment in Egypt and then Gibraltar till 1804 when he took command of the 52nd Regiment in Shorncliffe.

Shorncliffe Camp in 1804 was commanded by General Sir John Moore and it was there that the famous Light Division of Peninsular fame was trained. Sir John Moore was the driving force behind the innovative training regime but Mackenzie put it into practice. In 1804 he married Rachel, daughter of Robert & Rachel Andrews in Hythe. He suffered concussion from a fall from his horse and had to retire for a time but in 1808 he was promoted Colonel and went to Cadiz to command a brigade for a short time till ill-health forced him to return to England. In 1811 he was promoted Major-General and appointed to command all the light infantry troops in England. In 1813 he went to the Netherlands and was Governor of Antwerp in 1814-5. He then retired to Hythe. He was promoted Lt-General in 1811. During his retirement he became a jurat in Hythe and was active in the campaign in Hythe for Parliamentary Reform in the early 1830s when most of those entitled to vote in Hythe did not live there and many inhabitants and ratepayers had no vote.

C) Douglas/Snodgrass

Inscription-North side Within this vault are deposited the remains of Rachel Douglas relict of Lieutenant General Sir Kenneth Douglas Baronet who departed this life on the 24th January 1847 aged 64. To the memory of Rachel Douglas widow of Major Snodgrass 96th Regiment, died January 15th 1877.

Rachel Mackenzie-Douglas was the only child of Robert & Rachel Andrews to survive infancy. She was born in 1787 and married Kenneth Mackenzie-Douglas in 1804 (see above). She bore him 8 sons and one daughter, Rachel, who married John Snodgrass.

Robert Andrews Douglas was the eldest son of General Sir Kenneth Mackenzie-Douglas and inherited the baronetcy. He married Martha Elizabeth Rouse on 29 April 1835 at St George's Hanover Square. They had three children. He served as a Major in Her Majesty's 12th Regiment of Foot. He died of TB on 1 November 1843 and is buried in the graveyard at Port Mauritius.

Alexander Douglas Douglas was born on 22 December 1811, the son of General Sir Kenneth Mackenzie-Douglas. He married Anne Rouse (the sister of Martha Elizabeth Rouse who married his brother Robert) on 17 April 1834. They had two sons and three daughters.

Rachel Douglas Snodgrass was born in 1817, the daughter of General Sir Kenneth Mackenzie-Douglas. She married her cousin John Snodgrass, an officer in the 96th Regiment, who died in 1856. After his death she went with her three children to live in Jersey. She moved to Weston-super-Mare and then to Cardiff where she died in January 1877. She left under £600 and her two unmarried daughters were her executors.

Also Elizabeth relict of John Puckle/ who departed this life 26th May 1808 aged 83 years

John Puckle was born in Icklesham in 1725, the son of John Puckle (1696-1743) and Frances Curtis (1700-1727). John owned a freehold house in the West Ward of Hythe which entitled him to vote in Parliamentary Elections. By 1802 when he made his will only two of his daughters were alive; he left his house and the contents plus £2000 in trust to his wife for her life and then to Sarah and Christian for their lives. He left £1,250 each to Sarah and Christian and the remainder of his estate to his four sons, John (1750-1819), Thomas (1752-1814), Robert (1758-1832), and William (1762-1826)- see below. John and Thomas had a warehouse business in the City of London and Robert was a woollen draper in Cornhill, City of London

Elizabeth Puckle nee Scoones was the daughter of Thomas & Mary Scoones. She was born in Tonbridge in October 1724 and married John Puckle there on 22 August 1749. Their first child, John, was born in Tonbridge but the other eight were born and baptised in Hythe

Mary Puckle was the eldest daughter of John & Elizabeth Puckle. She was baptised in Hythe on 22 February 1754 and buried there on 29 May 1771.

B&C Both inscriptions To/ the memory [rest illegible].

These two gravestones are identical to the three Puckle gravestones either side of them. One must be the grave of John & Elizabeth Puckle's son, William Puckle, and his widow Ann Puckle and the other the grave of John & Elizabeth's two youngest daughters, Sarah Puckle and Christian Puckle.

William Puckle was the youngest son of John & Elizabeth Puckle. He was baptised in Hythe on 21 December 1762. He married Ann Bradley in St Thomas, Portsmouth, on 6 April 1794. William was a hosier in Southwark; in August 1795 he took on his brother-in-law, Samuel Bradley, as an apprentice. At the end of his life he and Ann lived in Princes Place, Kennington. They had no children. When he died in Hythe in November 1826 he bequeathed all his property to Ann.

Ann Puckle was the daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Bradley. She was born on 17 May 1767 and baptised in Godalming, Surrey, on 27 October 1767. Her will made on 4 March 1831 stipulated that she should be buried in Hythe in the same vault as her husband. In that will she made numerous bequests of money and jewellery to her brothers and sisters and their children and to various members of the Puckle family.

Sarah Puckle was baptised in Hythe on 28 September 1760, the seventh child of John and Elizabeth Puckle.

C)Inscription To/ the memory of / Elizabeth/ Puckle/ who departed this life/ 14 July 17[86]/ aged 70

Lionel Lukin was the youngest son of William Lukin of Blatches, Little Dunmow and his wife Anne, nee Stokes. While he was working as a London coachbuilder, Lukin began experimenting with a Norwegian yawl in 1784, testing his alterations in the River Thames. He became Master of the Worshipful Company of coachmakers in 1785. In the same year he filed his patent for an 'unimmergible boat'. His boat was designed with air boxes along the sides and a cork belt. His first boat was tried at Ramsgate. In 1786 a boat converted to his design was used in Bamburgh. The first purpose-built lifeboat was the Frances Ann of Lowestoft. She was in use for 50 years and saved over 300 lives. He also invented a raft for rescuing persons under ice, an adjustable reclining bed for hospital patients, and a rain guage.

He was twice married, and by his first wife, Anne (nee Walker) widow of Henry Gilder of Dunmow, had a daughter, and a son of the same name, who patented several inventions. He married secondly Hesther Clissold of Reading. He retired to Hythe at the age of 82, when his eyesight failed.
